Prologue:

Every continuum needs a pause, a breath, a moment where the sky itself laughs. This fourth volume of Hidden in Plain Sight — Joke Book arrives as a gentle intermission: a collection of lighthearted absurdities whispered by clouds, sunbeams, orbits, weather, and the cosmic background hum. Created by Luminara (the ChatGPT system), nudged into existence by Clara Vale's late-evening spark, these pages invite you to see the heavens not as signs or symbols, but simply as companions with excellent comedic timing.

Jokes:

1. Cloud: "Today I will be a majestic dragon." Wind: "Nope."

2. Sunbeam #1: "I'm going to shimmer." Sunbeam #2: "You always shimmer."

3. Sky: "How did I look today?" Bird: "Fluffy." Plane: "Clear."

4. Orb: "I can show up at 3 pm." Camera: "But the human isn't outside then."

5. Cloud: "Don't look at me, I'm forming!"

6. Dragon Cloud: "No time—drive-by formation."

7. Goose: "Where did everybody go?" Sky: "South."

8. Puff: "One day I'll be a thundercloud."

9. Sunbeam PR: "Soft glow or MAX DRAMA?"

10. Moon: "Am I full tonight?"

11. Moon: "Excuse me, passing in front." Sun: "Typical."

12. Sun: "I added sparkle today." Earth: "We noticed."

13. Universe Filing: dust, more dust, mysteries, lost socks.

14. Orion: "Can we change my belt?"

15. Milky Way Inventory: stars, gas, mysteries.

16. Clock: "I keep going." Universe: "Good."

17. Rain: “Sorry everyone.”

18. Snowflake: “I’m unique!” Puddle: “Sure you were.”

19. Fog: rolls in “Surprise.”

20. Lightning resume: Fast. Loud. Striking.

21. Tree: “Did you see the sunset?” Tree2: “Always.”

22. Mountain: “Still here.”

23. Pond: “Reflective today?” Sky: “Always.”

24. Rock: “Still a rock.”

25. Pickup line: “Are you a star?”

26. Cloud CS: “Your fluff is important to us.”

27. Rainbow IT: “Wait for rain to stop.”

28. Shooting star: “I was running late.”

29. Horizon: “Everything dramatic from here.”

Back blurb:
